

Jones, Hanszen offer folk dances, warn about wearing slippery shoes

This Friday from 8 to 11:30 pm the Jones commons will echo with the sounds of unfamiliar strains and the humble footsteps of Rice's own folk-dancers.

Under the aegis of Jones and Hanszen Colleges, this year's first all school folk dance is an extension of an informal group.

Sharing with the Last Drop Coffee House a desire to have informal weekend entertainment available near campus, Linda Clark, spokesman for the group, invites all interested students to join this experimental group.

Miss Clark, because of her own unfortunate experiences, advises "all who attend not to wear slippery shoes if they hope to learn the feats of Zorba."
